

A M I R M O H T A S H E M I

Silver Ewer

India, 19th century

33cm high, 24cm wide

This silver ewer features chased and engraved decoration. Scrolling vegetal motifs including acanthus leaves, flowers and grapes cover the surface and a snake-skin design marks the handle. The neck and body bear alternating ornamented and undecorated silver panels arranged in a vertical format, and similarly around the spout in a twisted arrangement.