

Boris Aldridge

Moon Fish Panel no. 1

Suffolk, England, 2023

Lustre glazed ceramic tiles

100cm high, 68cm wide

Stock no.: BA043

A panel of double-fired hexagonal lustre tiles by the Dublin-born contemporary British ceramicist Boris Aldridge (1974-). Inspired by Ilkhanid Kashan lustre tiles, Aldridge uses traditional metal oxide techniques to create his dream-like visions of the natural world. Each hand-crafted tile in this panel (45 complete tiles, and 21 partial tiles) features an individual fish against a deep blue ground. Vibrant light blue halos around the fish creates the effect of light penetrating the deep ocean.
